

Trevithick Day in Camborne

Trevithick Day in Camborne on Saturday 28th April 2018 was a resounding success from all angles.

With the town closed to traffic, the crowds were out in force. In brilliant sunshine they were entertained by local bands, stilt walkers, pop groups – you name it, it was there!

We sited ourselves on one of the main roundabouts in Telowarren Street outside Tyacks Hotel and offered the jute bags to passers – by. So eagerly were they snatched up, that Seb. Fairweather made two trips back to my car to replenish supplies.

All were gone in under 2 hours. Approx 150. Also, all the copies we had of 'Stolen Seas', about 100, were handed out.

This shows the mood of much of the public. A few 'remainder' remarks but they were definitely in the minority.

Get your street stalls going, folks! Show the public we mean business.

BUT – a cautionary note: Apparently the EU takes a dim view of UKIP material being handed out with EFD publications and may inflict hefty fines ! It is wise, therefore, not to mix the two on your stalls as there are 'moles' around who may report anyone doing this. Our political opponents may take great pleasure in this.

So, best to either offer EFD stuff i.e., Brexit bags, 'Stolen Seas' booklets etc, OR our own publications.
