There appears to be talks in Parliament later this week under the heading of 'PESCO'. The details are sketchy.

The document which precedes this week's meeting highlights the prospect of EU Military integration, possibly by the end of this year.

Has everything been decided in advance of the meeting?

Is Selmayr (a Juncker aide) in effect telling diplomats what to say?

Diplomats of the 28 countries draft the EU Conclusions and ministers have to stand up and explain why they disagree with their diplomats in the EU Council meeting.

If ministers don't do this, the conclusions stand as EU Council conclusions.

With military union comes fiscal union. Can there be a meaningful Brexit with our troops answerable to Brussels?

Write to your Member of Parliament NOW. Are they overlooking these important matters including those of national security?

Are these no longer being debated in Parliament?
