

If we get the promised IN / OUT Referendum, this will be UKIP's big challenge. The EU will offer fig leaves, its tactics being to talk them up to look as if negotiations are under way. No doubt David Cameron will come back from Brussels loudly trumpeting success.

But nothing in The Lisbon Treaty can be changed unless another Treaty is passed spelling out the changes. For this, all 28 countries have to agree, as likely as me climbing to Everest's peak!

When the computer says No, Mr. Juncker means it !

Any wonder why we must get out of all this ?

Stuart Guppy St. Ives